Interpreting

In-person interpreting is the go-to method to help businesses connect with the roughly 25 million Limited English Proficient (LEP) people in the United States.

Our professional and certified interpreters can assist with doctor's appointments, well visits, consultations, specialty care, counseling and more.

Video Remote Interpreting (VRI)

Either pre-scheduled or on-demand, VRI has become essential due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Our encrypted, secure platforms connect medical interpreters with patients in about 30 seconds.

iTi's Telehealth service has been crucial to limiting the spread of coronavirus by keeping waiting rooms from overcrowding. It is also convenient: appointments can be made via text or email.

Over-The-Phone Interpreting (OPI)

Our pre-scheduled and on-demand OPI solution is a great option for high-volume contact centers like doctor's offices and special care centers.

Our interpreters are available on demand 365/24/7, ensuring that emergencies are covered. This solution also helps in diagnosing walk-in patients with more routine iTi offers several invaluable options when it comes to medical document translation. There is no room for a translation error when it comes to health related documents. Our team provides translations in more than 250 languages and our quality assurance is exemplary.

We can help with a large variety of medical documents, ranging from admission and discharge summaries to prescriptions,
